

Balsall Heath Living Room Events Role Profile

About Moseley Road Baths:

Moseley Road Baths is a community-led swimming pool in Balsall Heath in Birmingham. Open for swimming 7 days a week, we want to support people to have healthy and active lives, as well as sharing the heritage of our amazing building with our community.

About Balsall Heath's Living Room:

Balsall Heath's Living Room, situated in the iconic Gala Pool at Moseley Road Baths (MRB), is a free civic space in which people can be warm, chill out with friends or alone and engage in installations and activities. As the title suggests it will be a Living Room-like space co-designed with local residents, artists, and creative practitioners that embodies and celebrates Balsall Heath. The Gala Pool is reimagined as Balsall Heath's Living Room to continue to welcome local communities to foster a sense of collective belonging in the building. Balsall Heath's Living Room consists of three spaces:

- The first space is a warm welcome, introduction to the project and the concept of the Living Room, letting people know they are in the right place, at the right time.
- The central space includes rotating installations. This is the main area for active programming, accommodating the Baths regular engagement activities, groups, and workshops.
- The final space is a Living Room in its most traditional sense, a playful and ceremonial space to bring people together.

Balsall Heath's Living Room has taken inspiration from the social history of Moseley Road Baths. In winter months, Pool 2 (the pool currently used for swimming) was boarded up and used as a social space - including for dances! Through the Living Room we can explore this history and revel in the unique atmosphere of the Gala Pool.
